Free legal advice available Nov. 29 through Ask A Lawyer program presented by Mass. Bar Association and WBZ Call for Action

BOSTON, Mass. — Massachusetts residents can receive free legal advice on Wednesday, Nov. 29, by participating in the Ask A Lawyer call-in program, presented by the Massachusetts Bar Association, WBZ Call for Action, WBZ NewsRadio 1030 and WBZ-TV.

Volunteer lawyers from the Mass. Bar Association will be at the studios of WBZ NewsRadio to field phone calls from 7 to 9 p.m., on Nov. 29, from Massachusetts residents who have legal concerns or problems. The legal advice is provided for free as a public service. The Ask A Lawyer phone number is (617) 787-7070. If a caller gets a busy signal, they are asked to hang up and try again. Normal telephone charges will apply.

“Many people cannot afford a lawyer or don’t know where to turn, and the Massachusetts Bar Association and our partners at WBZ NewsRadio, WBZ-TV and WBZ Call for Action are committed to closing this justice gap through the Ask A Lawyer program,” said MBA President Christopher P. Sullivan. “With just one phone call, our volunteers provide a much-needed helping hand to those who are facing critical legal issues at home or in the workplace.”

While volunteer lawyers field calls, Sullivan will appear as a guest on WBZ NewsRadio’s NightSide with Dan Rea, where he will discuss the ways in which the Massachusetts Bar Association works to serve both lawyers and members of the community through efforts, such as its monthly Dial-A-Lawyer program, Lawyer Referral Service (www.masslawhelp.com) and other public initiatives.

WBZ Call for Action, in existence for 46 years, is a non-profit telephone information, referral and action service dedicated to resolving people’s problems. A free service, it is a member of the national organization, Call For Action, Inc.
